

About the DePaul Art Museum

Always free and open to everyone.

DePaul Art Museum (DPAM) is a world-class museum located in the heart of Lincoln Park on DePaul University's campus. DPAM is open to the public and presents three to five temporary exhibitions per year with a permanent collection of more than 3,500 objects with strengths in international modern and contemporary art.

DPAM enriches the university's commitments to excellence, diversity and social concerns.

Built in 2011, the LEED-certified building was designed by Antunovich Associates.

Permanent Collection at a Glance

To express the diversity and historical significance of the over 3,000 piece permanent collection, here are a few data visualizations.

Artwork Dimensions

Each rectangle represents the height x width of an artwork. The darker, more dense area in the middle represents a large quantity of works with similar dimensions.

Creation Date

Each pixel in the above image represents a work from the collection. Color signifies the work's creation date, according to the legend.

Explore the #DPAMArtMatch Personalities

Each room in the 3D tour corresponds to a #DPAMArtMatch. Explore the five different personalities in the permanent collection experience

The Chameleon

You can't be pinned down! You enjoy a wide variety of art and mediums, but especially love pieces that are challenging and abstract. You tend to go on feeling, as you are a very expressive individual.

The Historian

Blast from the past! You look for historically important art, and often seek to understand the context. You may be an art history nerd, very knowledgeable (or hope to become very knowledgeable) about art of all kinds, a lifelong learner, and community focused.

The Thrill Seeker

You live on the wild side! You find the thrill in art that you find inspiring, exciting, and different! You have a strong affinity for contemporary, irreverent, political, commentative and bold pieces of art.

The Sensitive

You're in touch with your emotions! You look for art that appeals deeply to emotion, quietness, thoughtfulness, and expression.

The Traditionalist

You love the classics! You seek art that is representational, classic, and sophisticated. You gravitate towards art that falls into more strict categories of art movements or styles.
